SHOOTING OF STUDENT

Officer Kerns Discharges Three Shots at Young Man Who Resisted and Broke Away From Him.

John Kane, of Adams, Mass., a student at Georgetown College, is lying dangerously wounded in the Alexandria Hospital as the result of an unfortunate occurrence on King street about one o'clock this morning. Four of his companions, also students at the same institution, are being held here until they each procure $100 bail for their appearance when wanted. The case came up in the Police Court this morning, but as it is necessary to await the result of Kane's injury, only a partial investigation of the shooting could be made.

Kane's companions, who had been arrested as witnesses, were placed in the dock when Officer Kerns testified that about one o'clock this morning the wounded man and his companions became disorderly in the vicinity of King and St. Asaph streets, and he approached the party and told them they must "cut out" such conduct. Kane became obstinate and the officer was compelled to place him under arrest. His companions took exception to this, and when Mr. Kerns took hold of the man one of the latter's comrades closed in on him. One of the young men after saying, "Come, on boys!" seized the officer, when the latter called upon a young Alexandrian who happened to be near by at the time to pull the youngster away from him. After proceeding a short distance with his prisoner, the latter became obstreperous and ,the officer alleged, struck him and finally broke away from him, when Mr. Kerns drew his pistol and discharged it at the fugitive.

The companions of the unfortunate young man testified that they came to this city last night and obtained meals in a lunch house, and upon being told the last train had left for Washington, they were on their way to the union station to take a steam train for the capital city when the officer approached them. They admitted they were skylarking, but that they were not disorderly. One of the witnesses stated that Kane had been drinking and they did not deny the officer had been resisted with force.

Officer Kerns added to his first statement by alleging that the party had been on north Lee street at a certain house. This was not denied by the youngsters.

Justice Caton continued the case and announced that the four young men, being non-residents, would be held as witnesses if they failed to furnish $100 bail each. He also placed officer Kerns under his own recognizance to a appear when wanted.

The officer, according to statements of the witnesses, discharged three shots at Kane as he ran, one of which penetrated the latter's shoulder, making a dangerous wound, and after proceeding a few steps he fell, and asked his companions, who came up in the meantime, to take him to a hospital. He was placed in the Alexandria Hospital as soon as possible where he was attended by Doctors Powell and Moore.

Bullet in Breast.

The bullet entered his right side from the rear and is supposed to be lodged in his right breast. The bullet had not been removed at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Kane's four companions were: Paul E. Raidy, and Frank Upton, of Adams, Mass., and John Guilfoyle, and Daniel Murray, of Bayonne, N.J.

All Are Students.

Raidy and Kane are students in the law department of the university; Upton and Guilfoyle are in the dental school, and Murray is at Georgetown College. All of the boys are under twenty years of age.

The musical and literary entertainment Friday evening in the Westminster building for the benefit of the Payne street chapel building fund will be a treat to all music lovers and some of the city's best talent will participate in the evening's amusement. The ladies of the church always fulfill their promises and they have promised that any who come to the Westminster building Friday evening shall not be disappointed.

VIOLATING LIQUOR LAW

Several of the Accused Sent to The Grand Jury, Others Fined and One Case Continued.

Seven persons were before the Police Court yesterday charged with violating the prohibition law and for being drunk. Joe Adams, colored, who had three pints of whisky in his possession, was sent on to the grand jury, five men were fined $5 each for being drunk and another individual was sent to jail for three months under the vagrant law.

Eight prisoners were before the bar this morning to answer similar charges.

Maude Norton, colored, forfeited $5 collateral by failing to appear and answer the charge of being drunk. A young white man, charged with a similar offense, was assessed $5, and another white man was fined $10 for being drunk and disorderly.

Henry Sloan, colored, had been arrested for having a gallon of whisky in his possession. He was sent on to the grand jury. Edward Tate, also colored, had several bottles of beer and gin in his charge. He also went on to the grand jury. Robert Jackson, colored, was fined $5 for being drunk.

The case of W. W. Simpson, charged with violating the prohibition law, was, at the request of Louis N. Duffey, his attorney, continued until next Tuesday.

Simpson, who conducts a second-hand furniture store on Cameron street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sergt. Roberts and Policemen Zell, Campbell and Power on a charge of violating the prohibition law, He was released in the custody of his attorney to appear in court when wanted.

Simpson was taken in custody a few minutes after alighting from an electric train at King and Royal streets. He went into a cigar store and, the police alleged, left a suit case there. The case contained six quarts of liquor, it is charged.

CHIEFS PRAISE THE LAW

Heads of Police Force Say Number of Arrests Has Been Greatly Reduced Under Prohibition

The Richmond Virginian presents official reports from a large number of the cities of the State showing the results of one month of prohibition in Virginia.

The Virginian says in only one city previously wet do the figures presented show, on their face, any but the most gratifying results, Alexandria indicates an increase of arrests, but that is at once explained by the chief of police, who says that heretofore no charges have been recorded against plain "drunks," who have been permitted to return to their homes as soon as they sobered up.

Under the present law this cannot be done. All drunken persons must be arrested and all who are arrested must face the court.

The enormous reduction not only in drunkenness, but in all forms of crime is seen in practically every one of the reports, which follow:

The following is Chief Goods's explanation:

"At your request, I am sending you by mail the following report of arrests for being drunk and disorderly, assault and battery, disorderly and fighting for November, 1915: Drunk and disorderly, 21; disorderly and fighting, 9; assault and battery, 6. November, 1916: Drunk on the street, 31; disorderly and fighting, 4; disorderly conduct, 6; assault and battery,6; violating the prohibition law, 11.

"I will state before the city went dry all drunks who were taken into custody were turned loose after they got sober. There were not any charges put against them, but now every person who is picked up drunk has his name entered on blotter, and he is taken before the police justice.

"Respectfully,

"C. T. GOODS,

"Chief of Police.

"P. S.—We have less drunks now and better order than we ever had before."

VIRGINIA NEWS

Paragraphs Picked Up Here and There Throughi the State.

Receipts from hunting licenses for the state promise to exceed all estimates made for several months prior to the enactment of that law. Reports for the month of November, which will be the heaviest of all the months, are expected to reach 25,000, and January will be another large month, as at that time the non-residents will be flocking to the state for a brief outing. The majority of them are expected to be the duck hunters who will make things lively around the tidewater sections of the state.

Judge Edward S. Turner, of the Twenty-sixth judicial circuit, announced yesterday his retirement from the bench. His resignation has been forwarded to Gov. Henry C. Stuart, Judge Turner will resume the practice of law at Warrenton, forming a partnership with Col. J. Donald Richards and B. Richards Glascock, The firm name will be Turner, Richards & Glascock.

Relatives in Winchester have been notified of the sudden death of Mrs. Belle Faris Claybrook, wife of Rev. Willoughby Newton Claybrook, which occurred while she was attending services in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, at Birmingham, Ala., of which her husband is rector. The latter was officiating in the sanctuary when his wife was stricken.

Announcement was made yesterday of a general wage increase by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company will average in the neighborhood of 10 per cent. The raise went into effect in some of the departments Wednesday. Others employes will receive their increases within the next few weeks and the entire increase will be in effect by the first of the year.

Battling for nearly two years to be freed from the charge of having been implicated with his older brother, Luther, in the murder and assault of Mrs. Maude Wilson, the young wife of James R. Wilson, a farmer near Wallace, James Canter, 19 years old, will face a jury in the Circuit Court at Abingdon for the third time next week. He was once sentenced to die, but the Virginia Supreme Court reversed the lower court and remanded the case for a new trial. The jury was unable to agree in the second hearing.

THANKSGIVING SERMON

Delivered by Rev. Dr. Eugene B. Jackson at the Union Services Held in This City Yesterday.

Five congregations joined in the union Thanksgiving services held in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, yesterday, the pastors of each taking part. They were: Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, of the Second Presbyterian, Rev. L. M. Ferguson, of Trinity Methodist, Rev. E. T. Kirkley, of the Methodist Protestant, and Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, of the First Baptist Church who preached the sermon. Excellent music was rendered by the choir, in which the entire congregation joined heartily, and Mrs. C. E. Outcalt sang as the offertory solo "He Lifted Me," with splendid effect. The church was practically filled with the large audience in attendance.

Rev. Dr. Jackson chose as his text the twelfth verse of the twentieth chapter of Exodus: "The land which the Lord thy God giveth thee," his theme being, "The hand of God in our history." The discourse was listened to with close attention by all present. The Gazette takes pleasure in giving a synopsis of it herewith:

These are fateful days in which we are living. It seems almost a miracle that our country should not be drawn into the terrible vortex of a world war. There is a profound feeling of gratitude that this is so. Some of us believe that this happy condition is due to the ingenuity of man, some that it is sheer good luck but I wonder if we should not give God the praise? I am going to ask you to look at some facts this morning that seem to me plainly to indicate the hand of God, in our history, as a Nation. May I not say first that our country is the gift of God. There is no scripture for it, but we have the logic of history.

It would appear that Columbus was indeed a hero of faith. Many had his knowledge but none were willing to act. He turned aside with his dreams and his skill and felt the impulse of the hand of God, even when the hand of man was unwilling to reach out to his help. Certainly this wonderful land was held till the world was ready to make proper use of it. Another mariner from the North had come before but his imagination had not been stirred. Suppose it had been opened to the world during the "Dark Ages," then the darkness of superstition and ignorance would have settled upon America. But Luther was to come first and keep the night from us. Did not God send Whitfield and Wesley across the sea to help lift the cloud? Again, it was a gift of God because it was a gift worth while. There was none other just like it remaining on earth. Africa, with her darkness and superstition had long been known and pased by; Asia, with her systems of moralities, and philosophies, was nesting complaisantly in her heavy past; Europe with state rivalries and her eccelesiastical tyrannies, had placed the wrong accent then as today. Only God could point the way to better things—the kingdom on earth must find a new realm of influence and that realm was North America.

I want you to notice in the second place that our country is a gift, guarded by God. Certainly he has treated us as he has treated no other nation. After the days of Columbus, the continent was divided among the nations just like Africa is divided today, and the wars of Europe in those days were fought here. But God saved us from the wars of rival States.

Spain with her cruelties was banished, as she was afterwards from Cuba, Then France with her Revolution, was to loosen her grip upon vast territory here—Napoleon dreamed of an Empire here which would absorb our loosely joined States.

The old Carlyle House in Alexdria was the scene of many a conference in this contest of civilizations. One day, the sovereignty of England was established in North America. Did not God place our destinies in the hand of the most democratic state of the old world? But we were saved from being merely a Colonial possession. Could we wrench ourselves loose from the Master Colonizer of the Centuries? Were those brave men in the Philadelphia convention to "hang together or to hang separately?" All the masterly strategy of a Washington would have availed but little but for his imploring the help of God. There were as deadly enemies here at home as Benedict Arnold, but not so bold. Only the skillful diplomacy of Franklin, playing upon the hatred of France for England, led her to help Washington's little army at Yorktown. Let us thank God today that he has often saved us even by strange agencies. Then we were saved from the dangers of compromise, Ah, the biggest fight began after we had been given our freedom. The Constitution of the United States was written only because of dangerous compromises between States. Patrick Henry and others fought it in Virginia.

The name of Washington was dragged in the mire because he desired to make it more than a rope of sand. Compromise left us that hideous monstrosity, slavery, and brought us

QUIT CLAIMS ALLOWED

Meeting of Council Called For Noon Today to Pass Ordinance Concerning Lot in George Washington Park

A meeting of the City Council was called for 12 o'clock today for the purpose of considering a report of the committees on finance and general laws on a communication from J. R. & H. B. Caton, asking Council to pass ordinances giving quit claims to certain lots in George Washington Park, which had been sold to Laurance Stabler and Robert Elliott, before the park had been annexed and acquired by the city of Alexandria. The committee presented preambles and resolutions recommending the granting of the same; also ordinances making the granting of the quit claims legal.

Five members of the Board of Aldermen appeared, but the Common Council lacked a quorum at noon, and the papers were sent to the Aldermen, and they were passed by that board.

Nine members of the Common Council appeared eventually, and the action of the Board of Aldermen in adopting the report of the committees, the resolutions and the ordinances was concurred in by unanimous votes.

The property referred to are lots 1 and 2, of Block 4, section 1, and lot 6, block 4, section 1.

Both boards subsequently adjourned, no other business having been presented.

FRANCIS JOSEPH'S FUNERAL

Actress Refused Admission to Emperor's Death Chamber

London, Dec. 1—The funeral procession of Emperor Francis Joseph left at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Hofburg chapel in Vienna, where the body had lain in state since Monday, and traversed the streets of Vienna by a circuitous route to St. Stephen's Cathedral. The hearse was drawn by eigth horses and surrounded by an imperial bodyguard, lackeys and pages bearing torches and crucifixes.

The route was lined with troops, infantry and cavalry, and tens of thousands of spectators crowded the pavements and the roofs and windows of houses.

Cardinal Piffl, archbishop of Vienna, officiated, assisted by 4 cardinals, 10 bishops and 48 priests. At the conclusion of the funeral service Emperor Charles walked behind the coffin to the Capuchin church. This is a small edifice and only a few of the privileged were able to enter, the remainder standing outside during the final ceremony of bearing the coffin to the crypt. The emperor, the grand masters of the court and two chamberlains followed into the crypt and formally transferred the body to the custody of the Capuchin monks and the golden key of the coffin to the senior monk.

As Emperor Charles reascended to the church the boom of artillery in salute sounded in the distance.

A Zurich dispatch to the Wireless Press says that the Actress Katharina Schratt, who for years was an intimate of Emperor Francis Joseph, was refused admittance to the emperor's death chamber on the day after he died and was requested to leave the castle immediately.

UNFORTUNATE AFFAIR

The shooting and perhaps fatally wounding of a young man, a student in Georgetown College, by an Alexandria policeman this morning shortly after midnight on the main street of the city, is a lamentable affair, and has been the source of sincere regret from all classes of our people today.

It is unfortunate that the youngsters were on the streets of the city at that hour, and more unfortunate still that they attracted the attention of the policeman. But it had been a gala day at the college, a football game had been played, and the students were celebrating the event in their way. Five of them visited Alexandria about ten o'clock, missed the last electric train and were on their way to the union passenger depot to see if they could board a through steam train when the unfortunate scene was precipitated.

The details in connection with the shooting will be brought out in the Corporation Court; hence no opinion can be given until that tribunal shall have passed upon the case.

It is not the first time persons have been killed or seriously wounded in encounters with members of our police force. The fatal cases have been those of negroes who it was shown were bent upon killing the custodians of the peace. We recall half a dozen of such in the last third of a century. Several white persons have in bygone years been seriously injured by shots from officers' pistols.

While the young men composing the party last night were not engaged in any criminal procedure, they were attracting attention in the streets at an unseemly hour. It is to be regretted that they failed to obey the officer when he ordered them to desist.

We are sorry when any stranger is injured, accidentally or intentionally, while in Alexandria, and especially so in this case. The mother of young Kane, is a widow, a resident of Adams, Mass. She is said to be employed in a cotton mill, and is educating her son at Georgetown College. While preparing to resume her occupation this morning the sad news was undoubtedly carried to her that her son is lying dangerously wounded in Virginia.

"COLOSSUS OF THE NORTH"

Latin America has nothing to fear from the United States, and there is no reason for the fear manifested by many Mexicans, and some citizens of nations farther south, that the "Colossus of the North" is a menace to their independence. We have had war with only one of the nations south of us, and that occurred 70 years ago, and was not the result of direct aggression by us, but of our annexation of a State which had been a part of Mexico, but had already obtained its independence. Since then we have saved Mexico from European conquest.

The Philadelphia Record calls attention to the fact that the Monroe Doctrine was originally defensive, and it still is so. A few American statesmen have uttered some expressions that might be construed to mean more, but no policy and no action of the United States has given the slightest indication of an aggressive policy on our part. The language most likely to be distorted into an assertion of our right to regulate the affairs of the nations south of us was used in our defense of the rights of Venezuela against Great Britain, for which we were willing to fight, if need were.

But as some Latin Americans persist in fearing us, and in construing the Monroe Doctrine as the assertion of superior rights on this hemisphere, it is gratifying to find the President of Cuba speaking in terms of respectful admiration of "the noble and transcendental declaration of President Monroe," which, he says, "will continue to exert a faithful influence greater and more beneficial the further we strive and succeed in preserving its original simplicity, without obscuring its meaning by arbitrary interpretations."

For our own protection, primarily, but incidentally for theirs, we shall not allow European nations to subjugate or encroach upon an American nation. We are not trying, and shall not try, to control the destinies of other nations, or to take anything from them. But for the like mutual reasons we are justified in insisting on the preservation of order and the maintenance of civilization in territory adjacent to our own. The Monroe Doctrine is of even greater value to the Republics south of us than to ourselves.

IGNORING THE TURKEY.

What the simple expedient of doing without can do to the high prices of foods was shown Wednesday in the case of the turkey. Thousands of persons who had never missed having turkey for Thanksgiving determined they would not pay the high prices asked for the fowls and would do without them rather than submit to such charges as 30 and 35 cents a pound. The result was a continuous drop in turkey prices until late at night in some cities they were selling for 18 and 20 cents a pound.

The above suggestion may be acted upon during the next few weeks. Many housekeepers suppose Thanksgiving Day would lack the main essential were there no turkey on the table. The same supposition exists on Christmas Day.

The ancients thought the boar's head the main essential. The turkey may in time lose its standing during the holiday season if prices keep at the high water mark.

Three homes were wrecked and a score of families driven into the streets in Chicago early yesterday when a bomb was exploded in the hallway of a six-story apartment house in front of the door of Joseph Armstrong. DIES TO AVOID FUNERAL

Philadelphia, Dec. 1. — Dreading to face the ordeal of attending the funeral of his father, who died on Monday, Thomas Baker, 65 years old, committed suicide by inhaling gas, in a room at his home, No. 4361 Penn street, Frankford, yesterday.

Baker was the last surviving member of his family. His mother died three years ago and since then Baker is said to have been melancholy. When the father, William Baker, died at the age of 89 years, Thomas Baker, told neighbors he did not believe he had the courage to see his parent buried.

ROANOKE LADY PRAISES IT

For Five Years Sought in Vain for Remedy. At Last Finds it. Now Well.

Thousands of people, right here in Virginia are loudly praising the wonderful "National Tonic" now known around the world as a great stomach, kidney and liver remedy of the most unusual merit.

Mrs. J. H. Rayborn, 115 Church Street, N. W., Roanoke, Va., said: "Pains of the most severe nature seemed to pierce clear through my stomach after eating and I always seemed bloated and my stomach almost always sour and fermented. I began taking Tanlac and from the very first I noticed results and the second bottle pains all disappeared and I am feeling so much better in every way I want to personally testify to Tanlac's merit."

People suffering from these all too prevalent ailments the symptoms of which are commonly indigestion, constipation, nervousness, loss of sleep, headaches, sluggish blood, mind and memory, should not wait until conditions caused by imperfect co-ordination of the vital organs conquers them but should go at once to Leadbeater Drug Corporation, Alexandria, or G. T. Mankin and Co., Falls Church, and get a bottle of Tanlac.

Col. C. D. Langhorne has filed in the court of Albemarle county a deed converting his estate into a trust fund for his children, each to share alike. The estate is valued at $1,132,175.

Richmond last night closed her first month under the Mapp prohibition law with 539 fewer arrests for November than were made in October, and with 325 fewer arrests than made in the corresponding month last year.

to a civil war, that almost caused the Ship of State to go to pieces on the rocks. We see now, nearly all of us, that if its issue had been different we should be where Europe is, with its rivalries of States. Have we as a nation not been the peculiar object of God's care? Could we see the way? Ought we not still to trust Him more than our own devices? Let me say to you in the last place that our country is a gift of God, that carries responsibility. There is no gift of God, without responsibility. The chosen people seemed never to understand their purpose under God and they were displaced from their pinnacle of influence. God has given us America and we ought to face our responsibilities and thank Him for them. The gift means a "chance to exercise self control."

There are some mighty problems of humanity that must be solved but the chance for solution is given for the first time. France had dreams of liberty, equality and fraternity"—but the soil of the divine right of kings was a poor place to plant seed and she went into the horrors of her revolution. We settled problems of slavery and Union, here, and all trace of bitterness has gone. We are going to settle the problem of Capital and Labor without civil strife. We have just settled the problem of divided allegiance to country and we are hastening to the settlement of the "Liquor" problem in an orderly fashion. God gave the chance and he ought to be thanked. Our country means "a chance to learn human brotherhood."

Men have been fighting for the rights of property through the centuries with little thought of human rights. The world had gotten little beyond serfdom till America led the way. But God enabled us here to realize that he has "made of one blood all nations."

It cannot be said that we have just "religion enough to hate." We are trying even now to think of Mexico, not as an enemy but rather as a great suffering people trying to work out her best aspirations as a nation. We have not as yet reached the hill of vision where we can see the oriental as a brother, but we will. Let us thank God for the sheet let down before us and let us learn to call nothing common or unclean.

Our country is a chance to learn Humanitarianism.' Think of the vision of the Crusader and then try to think how far we have gone beyond him in our feelings of humanity. We have learned that our neighbor is the Armenian who went down from Jerusalem to Jericho who fell among thieves and cut-throats. We have tried to help the suffering in Belgium and in Poland—we have been permitted in these days to see the heart of the Master who looked out upon a world suffering because of its own misdeeds. Let us thank God that we ever had a vision of the Red Cross set to relieve the sufferings of men everywhere.

God, for the first time in history, enabled us to dream dreams that were utopian and then He saw that we actualized them.

"Thou too, sail on, O ship of State!
Sail on, O union, strong and great!
Humanity with all its fears,
With all the hopes of future years,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate."

The death of nearly 300 persons, in a cyclone at Pondicherry, India, is reported in a dispatch from Malras. The storm caused great damage to property.

"Ever in your life see a corn come out like that? Look at the true skin underneath—smooth as the palm of your hand!

Well Now, Look at That! Off Comes That Pesky Corn as Slick as a Whistle.

The earth is blessed with the one, simple, painless, never-failing remedy that makes millions of corn-pestered people happy, and that's "GETS-IT". Apply it in 2 seconds. It dries. Some people jab and dig at their corns with knives and razors—wrap their toes in packages with bandages or sticky tape, make them red and raw with salves. Nothing like this with "GETS-IT." Your corn loosens—you lift it off. There's nothing to press on the corn or hurt. Angels couldn't ask for more. Try it tonight on any corn, callus or wart.

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere. 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Alexandria and recommended as the world's best remedy by Richard Gibson.

THIS WOMAN SAYS FRIENDS MARVEL AT WONDERFUL CHANGE

Is a Walking Advertisement for Dreco, for it Fixed up Her Stomach Trouble, Constipation and Liver Troubles In Fine Style.

"I don't know how many of my friends have asked me lately, 'What on earth has come over you?' You don't look like the same person we knew a few months ago,' and I answer them with one word, "Dreco". I am honestly a living testimonial for that medicine, and you are more than welcome to print my case, for I am greatful for it," thus spoke Mrs. Fannie Stevens of 942 Florida Ave, northwest, Washington, D. C. I lost my appetite altogether and about eight years my digestion was poor and was getting worse, until I was taking medicine of some sort all the time. Some days I felt worse than others, but didn't seem to get any permanent relief. After a while I lost my appetite all together, and what food I forced down, seemed to sour and form gas in my stomach. My liver was very sluggish, too I suffered misery from sick headache.

"As time went on other complications set it. I grew weak and nervous and lost a great deal of strength and weight, and had a dull languid feeling all the time. My complexion got sallow like I had no blood left in me. Night time was hideous as I just could not sleep to do any good, and I'd often awaken with a sudden start. I was continually constipated and had to take something every night of my life.

"About this time there was a great amount of talk going around about the root and herb medicine Dreco, so I decided to try it, and right then I got on the right road to health. I took it regularly and faithfully and in a few days I was enthusiastic over it, for it certainly was making me feel better. I have now taken three bottles of Dreco, and my complexion has cleared up, my color, appetite and strength have returned to me. I now sleep fine and my liver is acting, and am never bothered a day with constipation. I just feel full of life and energy and I know Dreco is the greatest medicine on earth. It proved it in my case."

Dreco is now sold by Allen's Drug Store in Alexandria.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Paragraphs Picked Up Here and There Throughout the State.

Upward of 27,500 Thanksgiving turkeys were shipped by Rockingham produce houses this week to Northern cities, netting the farmers in this end of the valley $83,000. While only a few thousand more turkeys were shipped last year, this year's shipment brought $30,000 more than the 1915 crop. These birds sold on an average of 25 cents a pound and averaged about 12 pounds in weight.

Thomas Shomo, 75 years old, was run over and killed on Main street in Harrisonburg Wednesday by an automobile. J. P. Layman, the driver of the car, is under $1,000 bond for a hearing Thursday. Layman had just left a warehouse with a car he had just bought. Shomo leaves several grown children.

A serious explosion occurred at Mineral yesterday afternoon, while N. E. Durrett and George Ergenbright, a youth of sixteen years, were recharging an acetylene plant belonging to a hardware concern. From some unknown cause it explodes with a terrific jar, seriously injuring young Ergenbright.

TOOTHBRUSH CAUSES DEATH.

Pennsylvania Jury Decides Case Involving $7,700 Insurance.

Carlisle, Pa., Dec. 1.—After hours of deliberation a jury decided late yesterday that a toothbrush bristle caused the death of the husband of Mrs. Jennie A. Eby, and the Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., must pay the widow $7,700.

Eby was a druggist at New Cumberland and Harrisburg, Mrs. Eby, contended that he died of cerebral hemorrhage caused by choking on the bristle of a brush with which he had been brushing his teeth. Physicians who attended Eby bore out the widow's contention.

The insurance company based its defense on the testimony of Dr. William S. Wadsworth, Coroner's Physician of Philadelphia. He conducted an autopsy and said death resulted from natural causes. The case occupied the better part of three days.

Exact formula on every can

Even an expert cannot tell by looking at varnish whether it is adulterated. That is why it is so important that you should always buy varnish with a guarantee formula.

DEVOE
VERNOSITE THE LONG LIFE SPAR VARNISH
PALE INTERIOR VARNISH
MARBLE FLOOR FINISH

For outside work and all surfaces exposed to water, use Vernosite. It will not turn white from rain or sleet and the sun will not blister it.

For inside wood-work where extremely transparent varnish is required, use Pale Interior. It preserves the natural beauty of the wood, is hard to mar and won't scratch white.

For all floors use Marble Floor Finish. It waterproofs the wood, and enables it to withstand the severest wear and tear without marring.

We strongly recommend these three varnishes, because the guarantee formulas on the cans prove that they have been properly aged and that they are absolutely free from rosin and other adulterants.

Never take chances with varnish. Get Devoe and be sure.

Septorin
THE ANTISEPTIC LAXATIVE
is the laxative that
DOES NOT LOSE ITS EFFECT

Those who suffer from chronic constipation have learned that purgatives relieve them for the time, but that they have to keep increasing the dose, and finally the medicine loses its effect altogether.

SEPTORIN is not like this—it can be depended upon right along, and instead of increasing the dose the result of SEPTORIN is that you decrease the dose, and finally discontinue even SEPTORIN.

The only way to convince yourself is to TRY SEPTORIN.

Just one dose of SEPTORIN—only two tablets—taken to-night will prove its merits by morning.
